

INSTRUCTIONS:

The first section is specific to meetings and camps. The first slide is “BEAVER SCOUTS”. The next section is coping strategies. The first slide of this section is “ONLY YOU KNOW WHAT YOU NEED”. Feel free to use the visuals in any way you see fit.

I find having a small keychain for youth that like to follow along with the activities is beneficial. Also having a larger group set accessible so everyone is on the same page.

Having a small keychain for coping strategies helps the youth that need breaks throughout. Most times, verbal speech is challenging when youth become escalated. This can be a keychain that scouters hold onto and present to the youth in challenging times (after they learn what it is and how to use it). The youth can flip through and show what they need in the moment instead of trying to have a conversation. Scouters could also present 2 choices and have the youth choose between those.

INSTRUCTIONS:

KEYCHAINS:

1. Look through the visuals and decide which ones you would like to use.
2. Print the images you would like to use. (I suggest printing multiple per page so that the images are smaller and more transportable - 3in x 3in or 2in x 2in are great for personal use)
3. Laminate the images
4. Cut out the images
5. Hole punch the images in the same spot
6. Attach them to a keyring.
7. Enjoy
